

A locker service that's got you covered!

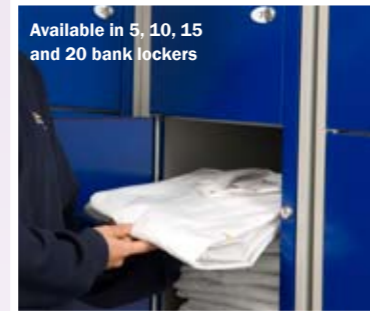

Johnsons Apparelmaster's on-premises distribution service (OPD) is the easiest way to give your staff 24-hour access to clean, hygienic workwear.

OPD helps to keep your premises tidy, free from loose garments on the floor and overflowing dirty laundry collectors. On-premises distribution reduces queuing times and the threat of casual theft.

Workwear lockers are available in a variety of sizes, containing between 5 and 20 individual locker banks, with flat or sloping roofs and locker stands for easy cleaning access.

A garment collector is also available to provide a hygienic area to securely place soiled garments, ready for collection by trained route personnel.

Choose from our range of workplace services which are designed to reduce your cleaning and maintenance costs, help remove bacteria, reduce administration, prevent theft and minimise disruption to your workforce.

- Cotton Towels & Industrial wipers
- Dust Control mats
- Personal locker services

Personal locker services are designed to keep your garments secure, clean, and tidy on your premises.

With the capacity to provide each member of your staff with their very own locker space containing their workwear laid out for the week ahead, our personal locker service will help save time, money and space.

It will also help reduce the misappropriation of garments, queuing times and damage. Whilst improving security and assisting in the complicated administration sometimes involved with providing workwear to your staff on a daily basis.

Our service includes;

- Employee training on locker usage
- Low weekly rental costs
- A range of different locker bank sizes
- Set-up and installation by professionally trained service personnel
- Distribution of locker keys to individual wearers for extra safety and security

Complete on-site management solutions

The use of a managed locker service reduces packaging and distributes clean, hygienic workwear to your employees personal lockers.

Workwear is delivered and placed within each individual locker saving you time and money. Ensuring clean, hygienic workwear is always available for your employees.

Garment collectors are fitted next to lockers to ensure the tidy and secure collection of soiled garments, which are collected by Johnsons Apparelmaster route personnel ready for cleaning.

Collected garments are industrially cleaned in one of our nationwide laundries, folded, and delivered back to your premises, where route personnel distribute your garments back into individual lockers ready for your employees.

Additional Benefits of a Personal Locker Service

+ Installing a sloped locker top reduces the collection of dust, and helps maintain room cleanliness and hygiene

+ Locker stands help to prolong the lifespan of flooring and improve access to clean away underneath the lockers

+ On-site surveys carried out by trained sales representatives to discuss locker requirements and on-premises distribution (OPD).

+ Unique locker keys are distributed to individually named personnel for increased security
